

THE HEADLEY TRAIL PORCH

Rooted in 1832.
Blooming on Ladiga's Land

WHERE HOSPITALITY MEETS HERITAGE

WHO WE ARE

We're Matt and Heather Headley of Headley Flower Farm, just off the Chief Ladiga Trail in North Anniston. We're raising flowers, kids, and community—inviting others to slow down and bloom.

TRAIL PORCH PROJECTS

- The Trail Shop – A walk-up flower kiosk offering blooms and hospitality to trail travelers and neighbors.
- Porchside Programming – A future space for music, storytelling, art, and native plant installations.
- Trail Access Improvements – We're working with city leaders to create a safe, scenic public path that connects the Porch to trail users and nearby parking.

WHY IT MATTERS

This is more than flowers—it's about:

- Local food security
- Economic revitalization
- Trail-based tourism & community connection
- Teaching the next generation to grow what they eat and love where they live

HOW YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

1. Sponsor or Adopt – Help fund or maintain Trail Porch features like art, native plant beds, shaded seating, or wayfinding signs. Visit headleyflowerfarm.com to learn how to support the bloom.
2. Collaborate – Book our Bloom Bar for your events, or partner on educational and hospitality initiatives.
3. Show Up – Visit the Trail Shop or flower shed, shop local, tell a friend, or attend the NAWA Event at Sinclair Social.

WHERE TO FIND US

Headley Flower Farm, 5400 Ridgewood Ave, Anniston, AL – behind Walmart and Tractor Supply.

Opening soon for self-serve Trail Shop visits. Farm tours by appointment only. Trail access improvements in progress.
